From Mr. Wright

Beulah students and staff were treated to an experience not many schools have ever had to go through or do. We had to relocate our school to the football oval as a result of inspections to be undertaken and our toilet block and other parts of the school were not able to be utilised. The students did well to adapt to the change in scenery on such short notice. So did the helpers who quickly came to our aid to help with setting up classrooms and transporting sporting equipment and learning resources.

As per my text message, make sure people who need to come on site follow the signs clearly displayed. Students have been told to stay out of certain rooms. I am awaiting to hear back from a number of people regarding what has happened but be assured we are allowed back on site and it is deemed safe to be if we stay away from certain areas. We have also have a number of other projects and activities happening behind the scenes and look forward to sharing them with you soon.

This week Isabella and I have been involved in budget meetings and we are starting to plan for next year. As much as we want to finish the year off strong we need to start planning for next year as well. Next week there will be more information about events, activities and important information that relate to the end of this year. Parents beware!!! I will be asking for your participation. Stay tuned for more information.

Contacting New Books

I am after parent volunteers who are willing to contact classroom library books and new reading books we have recently purchased so that students are able to use them. I want them contacted before I let students use them so that we can extend their shelf life as they will be well used. Please send me a message if you are able to help and I can prepare the necessary materials needed.

Music with Malcolm

Malcolm introduced the 'Lollipop Song' to everyone last Friday. Students then had to try and replicate the popping sound. As well as unpacking some of the new..... Ukuleles.

IN THE CLASSROOMS

3-6

P-2: Well done to the juniors for once again demonstrating their resilience when circumstances had to change unexpectedly!

In reading, the children have continued tuning in to interesting words. We have started investigating the meaning of the word 'rustling' by predicting what it means and using a dictionary to discover its official definition.

They have also been identifying parts of speech as nouns, verbs and adjectives. The children have enjoyed playing games to practise these skills.

In Maths, the children have continued expanding their number knowledge by ordering numbers and placing them on a number line and finishing number sequences. You should be very proud of yourself P-2!

In the senior room students have revised identifying different angles and measuring them accurately using a protractor. We also have done some revision on the addition and subtraction equations. In spelling the Sound Waves students have been learning the different letters that make up the sound 'ee' as in bee. They learnt about anagrams and verb tense and how to change the words used to change between tenses. In reading we started to learn about concluding and drawing conclusions from what we read by finding facts and details in the text and deciding what they mean. This week we started looking at ways of being creative and how different people have to be creative in their occupation. In RRRR we looked at problem solving and being able to identify problems and recognise that there are solutions to problems.

3-6 Homework: Due tomorrow is their homework quiz. On Monday students Mental Maths booklets are due (completed and corrected). If they have trouble with any of the questions they know to come and see me each morning.

Health

Reminder: If students could be on the hunt at home for some pictures of food— cut out from newspapers, magazines and bring them to School next week. Thank you.

Sounds Write

In Sounds Write, Miss G's group have worked on words including double consonants eg. Sniff, smell etc. Issy's group continued spelling words with the 'wh' sound and have been introduced to the 'ng' sound.

100 DAY PARTY

Last Friday all students got to celebrate '100 Days of Learning at School.' Students were able to bring in 100 of something – we had a variety of things from home. It included things like; rocks, rice, raw noodles and cotton buds. It was a fun-filled day with all games and activities representing 100!
